Assessment Roll Reaches New High

San Mateo County's parade of progress, indicated by a record increase in the county assessment roll, submitted to the board of supervisors here by Assessor Martin Flynn, showed San Carlos, San Bruno and Menlo Park, in that order, leading the way.

San Carlos assessments were up 19.5 per cent, San Bruno's 16.7 per cent, and Menlo Park's 9.4 per cent.

The county total including unsecured personal property and solvent credits, is $108,119,883, an all-time high and $4,602,118 higher than last year.

TWO SHOW DECREASES

The increase, Flynn explained, is doubly significant because of decreases recorded in Hillsborough, which went down 2.7 per cent as the result of subdivision of large estates, and Lawndale, "city of the dead" which showed a .7 per cent decline. Solvent credits jumped to $1,116,698 from last year's $547,860. Unsecured personal property, formerly listed with the secured personal property totals, totals $1,502,029.

Of the total county figure, cities accounted for $72,120,035; unincorporated areas $33,381,165.

VALUATION BY CITIES

Valuations by cities (figures in parentheses indicate per centage of gain):

Atherton, $5,189,345 (3.9); Bayshore, $273,345 (6.6); Belmont $1,138,950 (.91); Burlingame $12,276,970 (2.6); Daly City $3,016,080 (2.5); Hillsborough $11,426,010 (-2.7); Lawndale, $560,960 (-.7); Menlo Park, $2,203,710 (9.4); Redwood City, $71,438,930 (5.4); San Bruno, $3,103,510 (16.7); San Carlos, $3,114,890 (19.5); San Mateo, $16,167,730 (6.5); South San Francisco, $5,289,605 (2.5).

The unincorporated area showed a .15 per cent gain, the county as a whole 3.5 per cent.

To Use Vocational Placement Service, Try This Method!

If YOU as an employer or YOU as a job-hunter desire to utilize Sequoia High School's free vocational placement service during the current Summer months, you are asked to do it this way:

Telephone the high school (1980), tell the operator what kind of a worker you want or what kind of a job you want, then give your name and telephone number or address.

The reason for this procedure: James M. Eva, who has charge of the service, is not at the high school all day this Summer, because he is attending summer school at Stanford, but does come in sometime during each day. When he comes in and gets the message of the prospective employer or employe, he will check his files, see if he has a worker or a job, as the case may be, then telephone the person who has asked the assistance.

Eve reported today that the service is placing young people in jobs nearly every day—three girls have been placed in the past two days—and is thereby rendering a service both to employers who do not know where to turn for help and to young people who are unable to find work.

More than 30 people have been placed in full-time jobs since the service was expanded two months ago and given the assistance of the Exchange Club, to which Eva belongs.

Peterson To Defy State Attorney's Ruling

County Executive Frederick Peterson announced here he would not accept the ruling of Atty. Gen. Earl Warren that fiscal control of the county rests with the board of supervisors and that his action in approving or rejecting county claims is purely advisory.

The attorney general's opinion, revealed exclusively in the Tribune Saturday, is "only an opinion," the county executive declared. He predicted the issue would be taken to court, probably over the Coyote Point purchase, approved by the supervisors and opposed by Peterson. He said he has made up his mind that he will not approve the claim.

Record Rainfall Raises Havoc With Total of Sunny Days in Redwood City

The fiscal year just ended had about 2½ times as much rain as the fiscal year from July 1, 1938, to June 30, 1939, and consequently considerably fewer clear days but less cold weather, according to the annual report released today by L. W. Fowler, fire lieutenant and "keeper" of the U. S. Weather Bureau branch at the Jefferson Ave. fire station.

For the 1939-40 season Redwood City had 29.40 inches of rain, compared to 11.65 for 1938-39. Both figures are records for the community since statistics on the weather have been kept here, 1938-39 being the all-time low and 1939-40 being the all-time high.

Because of the added rain, clear days in the just-completed year were only 238, below average. In 1938-39 there were 253 clear days, well above average. The complete figures:

| | 1938-39 | 1939-40 |
|---|---|---|
| Clear days | 253 | 238 |

Hottest day, 1938-39—Aug. 2, 1938, 100 deg.; 1939-40—Sept. 20, 1939, 103 deg.

Coldest day, 1938-39—Jan. 25, 1939, 29 deg.; 1939-40—Jan. 14, 1940, 30 deg.

350 Added to Census Count in Redwood City

H. C. Sutherland of Santa Cruz, regional census director, and Ralph Wilder of San Francisco, a state census official, have informed Roscoe D. Wyatt, secretary-manager of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce, that Friendly Acres had not been included in the Redwood City census count as previously announced.

This would raise the city census by approximately 350 persons, Wyatt told the chamber's board of directors yesterday. The total still would be considerably less than 13,000, and estimates had placed the population as high as 15,000.

The directors recommended to the city council that a new "Climate Best by Government Test" sign be installed at Main St. and Bayshore Hwy., or that the present sign over El Camino Real at Broadway be transferred to that point and a new sign be erected at Broadway. The board recommended that the items be included in the 1940-41 budget.

Wyatt announced that 500 county advertising folders have been sent to the All-Year Club of Southern California, in answer to a telegraphic request from Los Angeles, and that 200 more have been sent to Treasure Island at request of the United States Travel Bureau.

Former Peninsulan Slated for Prison Job

Slated for appointment as new warden of San Quentin Prison, replacing Court Smith, is Capt. Jesse W. Glover of Bolinas, former Palo Alto resident and father of Fred O. Glover, editor of the Burlingame Advance and former sports editor of the Tribune, it was reported in San Francisco today.

Captain Glover, a Coast Guard officer for 18 years, was police commissioner in Palo Alto and originated the strict traffic law enforcement program in effect there for nearly a decade. While police commissioner, he voluntarily operated the Palo Alto shelter for transient men and in conjunction ran a 17-acre truck farm which furnished vegetables for the shelter and the poor of Palo Alto.

He later directed 48 transient camps and shelters from San Luis Obispo to Oregon, having charge of the discipline, working, housing and feeding of 14,000 men.

As a Coast Guard officer, Captain Glover was construction officer and discipline officer at the U. S. Naval training station at San Pedro during the World War. Later, as aide to the captain of the Port of New York, he had 1700 men and 65 officers under his direct supervision. He has been shipwrecked at sea, had Arctic cruises, and has been cited for bravery by the secretary of the navy.

Henry Dearborn Dies At Pescadero Home

Death from natural causes came Wednesday to Henry Dearborn, 87, of Pescadero, father of Harry Dearborn, Redwood City automobile dealer, and California pioneer who came to this area from Bangor, Me., shortly after the Gold Rush.

Mr. Dearborn, who settled in Pescadero about 1870, would have been 88 Aug. 1. He came to San Francisco in the 1850's to go into the wood and coal business. He participated in the building of the first horse-car line in San Francisco.

At one time he was associated in business with James McKinley, brother of former President McKinley. He turned to the lumber business in Pescadero, and worked for the Hayward Mills, one of the original lumber shippers in this area. He drove an ox-train from the Coast lumber area to the Bay, transporting logs.

In 1880 he built his home in Pescadero in which were born Harry Dearborn and his younger brother, M. L. Dearborn of Oceanside. Mrs. Dearborn died Dec. 27, 1937. Surviving in addition to the two sons are E. L. Dearborn of Fairfield, another son, and Mrs. J. N. Watson of Woodland, a daughter. Other relatives reside in Maine.

Mr. Dearborn had been active in Pescadero Lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows. He also belonged to Redwood City Encampment, IOOF, and was one of the oldest members of the Redwood City Blue Lodge, Free & Accepted Masons.

Fifteen years ago Mr. Dearborn retired, after having handled the Dearborn Park real estate business in Pescadero for some years. He had been out of the lumber business for 30 years.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the home in Pescadero, under direction of the Layng & Tinney Funeral Home. Burial will be in Pescadero Cemetery.

Redwood City Lodge 168, F. & A. M., will hold services at 8 o'clock tonight at the Layng & Tinney Funeral Home.

Rites at Sunnyvale For Train Victim

SAN CARLOS—Funeral services were held in Sunnyvale for Primo Bonelli, 45, Sunnyvale laborer who was killed here Friday night when he was struck by the southbound Del Monte Limited while working on the new asphalt platform at the Southern Pacific station. He was shovelling dirt adjacent to the tracks and apparently failed to see or hear the train. He leaves his wife and two children.

Jobs Opened For 1940-41

Indicative of the growth of San Mateo County's official business was the appearance at the courthouse Monday of new faces in various county departments as the 1940-41 salary ordinance went into effect with the dawn of the new fiscal year.

In the Social Service Department Helen MacGregor, San Mateo, who has been on the extra help schedule, became a steady stenographic employe. Gwen Callsen of Redwood City was employed as clerk, Minerva Bryant of Redwood City, clinic clerk, and Mrs. Cotopaxa Simpkins of North Palo Alto, clerk.

In the health administrative department, John Sullivan of Burlingame, bookkeeper; Walter Smith, Redwood City, clerk; and M. A. Rothchild, Burlingame, sanitary inspector, all on the extra schedule heretofore, won temporary appointments to year-round positions.

NEW NURSE, CLERK

Edith Dickson of Belmont was appointed public health nurse, and Ethel McClure, Redwood City, extra employe last year, went on the regular roll as health division clerk.

Acting Bldg. Inspctr. A. W. Russell announced appointment of Eleanor Balzarini of Redwood City as clerk in his department.

Agricultural Inspctr. Max Leonard appointed Everett F. Brown of Oakland as inspector for the first district, explaining that no resident of San Mateo County could qualify for the post under state standards. Leonard elevated Bruce Martin to the post of chief deputy, and named Ian J. Campbell deputy in charge of pest control work.

Assessor Martin Flynn made permanent appointees of four persons on last year's extra help roll. They are M. R. McMillan, Burlingame, assistant building appraisal deputy; Patricia Dwyer, San Mateo, clerk; Olga Marcopulos, Redwood City, clerk; and Charles L. Mattfeldt, Redwood City, land appraisal deputy.

PROBATION OFFICE

In the probation officer's department Ann Barats of Redwood City went to work as clerk and Frank Roach of Menlo Park as night watchman at the juvenile home.

John Kiefer, Menlo Park, was appointed election and registration deputy by County Clerk W. H. Augustus.

Judge E. I. McAuliffe named Catherine Ferraro, Redwood City, former employe of the county controller, as clerk of the justice court.

Appointment of two new night patrolmen in the sheriff's office and another full-time deputy in the recorder's office, as provided in the budget, have not been announced.

Hull Record Is Lauded

SAN SARLOS—A. H. Sagehorn, county treasurer and former member of the city council, was appointed to the council and then elected mayor this week to succeed the late Asa Hull, who had been mayor since 1932.

Sagehorn accepted the post after paying tribute to Mr. Hull's record in office.

"It will be a difficult job to fill his shoes," he said.

The council assembled in special session to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Hull's death. Temporary chairman was Merritt R. Hosmer. Councilman Donald R. Lilly made the motion appointing Sagehorn to the council. Hosmer moved that Sagehorn be named mayor. Both motions were carried unanimously.

Sagehorn served on the San Carlos council from 1936 to 1940, retiring at the termination of his term in April.

"We have the most rapidly growing city in the county," the new mayor declared. "Increased population means increased cost of government, a situation which must be watched carefully to keep the tax rate within bounds."

"All problems deserving of the council's attention should be brought to the council," he added, pointing out that the city board members are not paid for their services.

"When problems are brought before us, we will act for the best interests of the majority."

DIES AT PESCADERO

PESCADERO—Dr. Herbert C. Bolstad passed away at his Sunnyside estate home Saturday night. He had been in ill health. His wife, a son, Herbert, and a daughter, Imogene Stone, survive.

Hugh Smith May Seek Manager Job

Possibility that Supervisor Hugh H. Smith would run for the office of county executive in two years was disclosed today. Smith is retiring at the end of his current term as supervisor.

Should Smith, now chairman of the supervisorial board, oppose County Executive Frederick Peterson in 1942, he would bring to a climax a political feud which originated in Smith's original rejection of Peterson as a candidate for the then-appointive office of executive.

"I have reached no decision," Smith replied when questioned today. "If the condition of my business is such in 1942 that I will be able to give my entire time to the county, I may consider running for the office."

Coast Road Is Reopened To Traffic

Col. John H. Skeggs, division engineer, today notified County Executive Frederick Peterson that as a result of the reopening of the Ocean Shore Hwy. yesterday, the state would no longer maintain the old county road over Pedro Mountain as a detour. Skeggs asked that the county notify the property owners who permitted use of the abandoned county road, of the state's decision, and to make arrangements to restore gates and fences removed by county forces when the detour was first reopened to traffic.

County Engineer M. A. Grant said his department has no intention of maintaining the old road.

The Ocean Shore Hwy. had been blocked by slides at Pedro Point since February.

GIVEN DRIVING SENTENCE

Earl A. Hart, 32, Portola Rd., Woodside, a service station employe, today began serving a five-day jail sentence for reckless driving. The sentence was imposed by Judge E. I. McAuliffe. He was arrested June 23 by Capt. E. F. Cassell of the California Highway Patrol.

George Steed, Freed, Goes Back to Job

George Steed, 23, went back to his Burlingame home Monday morning and returned to work at a San Mateo garage Tuesday. The murder charge against him was dismissed by Judge Maxwell McNutt on motion by Dist. Atty. Gilbert D. Ferrell.

Accused of murdering his father, Andrew, 49, with a shotgun Mar. 10, young Steed went to trial June 13. On June 18 a jury of 11 women and 1 man reported it was deadlocked eight for acquittal and four for conviction on second degree murder.

Ferrell announced to the court this morning that he had little new evidence to present, and that in his judgment it would not be in the furtherance of justice or good judgment to "drag everybody through the ordeal of a second trial."

The judge granted the motion without comment. Ferrell threw his arm around the weeping young man's shoulder and admonished him to "buck up and stay out of trouble."

"I will," promised Steed.

His mother, wife, and sister were waiting in a car outside the jail. There was a tearful reunion, as Joseph J. Bullock, Steed's attorney, bid his client goodbye.

It was the third murder case before Judge McNutt this month. The murder charge against Ray Thompson, escaped Folsom convict, was dismissed. The trial of George J. Westman, accused of a Belmont hobo camp murder, ended in acquittal.

ALL RIGHT; WHO'S NEXT?

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The McReynolds family claims a record of some kind. Members ranging in age from 3 to 90 and belonging to four generations all went up in a plane together.

Completely bomb-proof will be the new archive building of Stockholm, Sweden, constructed on a rocky promontory with rooms blasted out of solid granite to a depth of six stories underground.

Frank Griffin Leaves On Annual Summer Trip

Frank Griffin, Sequoia High School athletic director, accompanied by Robert Morris, Sequoia senior, left Sunday on another of his Summer trips.

Like last year when he retraced the trail of the Joads in "Grapes of Wrath," Griffin this season plans to stay in America. He will drive first to Yellowstone National Park and the Black Hills of the Dakotos, then to Chicago for the Democratic National Convention. From there he will go to Cape Cod to spend a week or so with fishermen. He then plans to attend the New York Fair; go to Washington to see Congress in session; "recheck" on the migrant situation, and come home.

Griffin plans to write again for the Tribune while he is away.

Boys and girls two and three years old chose virtually the same toys, but girls show greater interest in drawing, painting and clay modeling.

North P. A. Youth Home

After several months in war-ravaged France and a hectic crossing of the Atlantic on the torpedo-threatened liner Washington, Jack Lessard is frankly happy to be back in his Donohoe St. home at North Palo Alto.

The talented young pianist, whose pursuit of a musical career in Paris was interrupted by the war, reached Palo Alto late Saturday night after a dash across the continent, a trip strangely peaceful in contrast to his European experiences.

"We all learned a lot by reading the official reports of the stopping of the Washington," he said. "At the time, things happened in such swift order that we didn't have time to get a clear impression of the incident.

"One minute all was normal. The next we were in lifeboats with lifejackets on."

Blitzkrieg found the young Sequoia High School graduate beginning his second year of studies in l'Ecole Normale de Musique in Paris. Life continued for a time in a fairly normal pattern. After the first few nights of blackouts and air raid sirens, these new phases of life became routine, Lessard told his interviewer.

PANIC ABSENT

"The people were all very sane, clear-headed about the air raid signals. They all went to the shelters in an orderly manner. No panic, just a matter of course," he said.

Wholesale evacuation of Paris broke up formal classes, so Lessard, in company with several fellow students of musical composition, moved in November to Gargenville, 40 miles from the city, to resume their work at the home of their teacher, Mme. Nadia Boulanger.

Igor Stravingsky, long time friend of Madame Boulanger, spent a little over a week in the Gargenville home early this year working on his new symphony. The students had little chance to get on an intimate footing with the great musician, for all spent their days in work, but the long evenings behind black-covered windows were spent in musical discussions and performances. All regretted that Stravingsky did not play for them from his symphony before his return to America, Lessard said.

By May, he explained, the war had come too close to the suburbs and the household broke up. Lessard chose Bordeaux for his next refuge.

CAPITULATION NO SURPRISE

"The capitulation of France did not come as a surprise," he said. "It was what happened to make France capitulate that was the complete surprise. The people all considered the Maginot Line the greatest thing of its kind, but it was in the wrong place. I guess it should have been on the other side of the Rhine."

Bordeaux, with its increasing hordes of refugees from the North, was an exciting place, but prudence prompted the young pianist to board the Washington June 8 for his return to America. He is a son of John E. Lessard of East Palo Alto.

After a week of rest, broken by business trips to San Francisco, he hopes to take up his activities here.

A spring in California yields water resembling hot lemonade.

A. H. Morgan Jr. Named To City Planning Board

Albert H. Morgan Jr., 314 Grand St., president of the Central Park Improvement Club, Monday was appointed by the city council to the Redwood City Planning Commission for a six-year term, replacing the late Edwin De Smith, former secretary.

The council, in a two-hour meeting, the shortest since the seating of three new councilmen in April, also appointed Henry A. Beeger, 83 Duane St., and Ralph C. R. Morser, 37 Avondale St. to new five-year terms as members of the Redwood City Board of Port Commissioners. Beeger, former mayor, has been serving as president of the commission.

Morgan, a San Francisco salesman and active in the Central Park group's contacts with the city council during the past year, is a former member of the Berkeley Planning Commission. His appointment, after motion by Councilman William M. Werder, was unanimous.

Two other appointments to renew offices on the city library board were delayed until the next meeting. O. K. Whittenburg and Mrs. Mary G. Thorning are the board members whose terms have expired.

Considerable discussion by the council concerning the "Climate Best by Government Test" sign over El Camino Real at Broadway resulted in the council's instructing City Manager Charles L. Dimmitt to write the state highway department in the hope of securing a commitment assuring the city of the right to erect a new sign over the highway after the widening job, which is to start in September, is completed next Spring.

The matter was brought up by Frank A. De Patta of the Clean-Up Committee, who presented to the board estimates of the cost of a new Broadway sign and a new sign at Jefferson Ave. pointing out the route to Emerald Lake.

A new sign at Broadway, 28 feet by 4½ feet, would cost $590 delivered here, not installed, according to a letter to De Patta from the Wonderlite Neon Products Co. of San Francisco. The Jefferson Ave. sign would cost approximately $200, the letter said.

The cost of installation, including the heavy steel framework necessary to support a sign of that type, constitutes the major expense, Dimmitt pointed out.

Question of the city's being denied the right to install a new sign when the highway is widened was brought up by De Patta, and discussion ended with the decision to approach the state highway department in an effort to clear up the matter.

Mayor Harold F. Anderson said that in any event the sign could not be installed before April or May of 1941, tentative date for completion of the widening from Broadway to Five Points, and it may be that the expenditure will be left for the 1941-42 budget. The matter will be gone over again at a special meeting of the council tonight to consider the 1940-41 budget.

Snowman, Bears Act Hit of Ice Show

"Accidental hit" of the glittering Ice Follies of 1940, now appearing nightly at Winterland in San Francisco, is the snowman-and-bears act.

This amusing number was put into the program as an atmospheric effect. It became a hit and is now a feature act.

Harris Legg, trick and speed skater, is the Snowman whose giant stature astonishes his watchers. Legg uses steel stilts which elevate him 18 inches above the ice surface. The stilts are jointed, through a special device invented by Legg, and are covered by his costume. He has yet to fall in the Snowman suit, he said, and therefore does not know how he'd get up again.

The three bears, Mama, Papa and Baby, are Artie Nicholas, Billy Stine and Gordon McKelland. Like Legg, each appears in other units of the ice show program.

McKelland is the baby bear. He has great difficulty, he says, coping with fond parents who want to take him home in his costume to amuse their children.

The Ice Follies is now in its second month at Winterland and indications are that it will continue for an extended period. Last year the revue played to 400,000 people in San Francisco. Since last year, 1,500,000 people have seen the show.

Colorful production and comedy are highlights of the 1940 edition of the Ice Follies. Beautiful costumes, special lighting and a highly skilled technique have been combined into what critics throughout the nation call the "world's greatest musical revue on ice."

S. M. Plans Own Census

SAN MATEO—Giving up the idea of a telephone cross-section poll because of the possibility of missing many people who weren't enumerated by census takers, the city council Monday night passed an emergency ordinance permitting City Manager W. D. Soule to employ a crew to start work immediately on a sample census.

If the workers learn in a cross-section count that very many people were not counted in the tabulation that gave this city only a 19,357 census, then a complete independent census will be made, it was decided. Estimates have placed the population at around 25,000.

H. C. Sutherland of Santa Cruz, district census supervisor, and Ralph Wilder of Sacramento, assistant area manager, both appeared at the council meeting to criticize the council and city for its criticism of census takers, and to declare they believed the census had been properly conducted here.

Sutherland said, however, that he would be available for another month and would send census enumerators to any homes found to have been missed.

Peterson Plans To Keep Watch Over Fiesta Funds

The San Mateo County Fair Association, which squabbled with the county grand jury this year over accounting of the $10,000 in county funds advanced for the annual Fiesta, will be required to follow regular county fiscal procedure hereafter if the board of supervisors adopts recommendations of County Executive Frederick I. Peterson.

In the past, Peterson pointed out Tuesday, the sum has been handed in blank check form to the fiesta board. This year, he plans, the fiesta management will draw claims in their regular manner against the fund which will be kept on deposit in the county treasury. All claims would be subject to approval by the executive and the supervisors.

Peterson pointed out that the same procedure is followed by San Francisco Peninsula Inc., advertising agency for the county.

In his budget request for advertising, Peterson said, is $10,000 for the Fiesta, $10,000 for the executive's advertising fund, and $8921 for SFPI. Of the latter figure, $1921 represents an unexpended balance from 1939-40.

The board of supervisors assured T. J. Hamilinan, president of SFPI, that the $8921 appropriation would be made and that the organization could proceed with July expenditures.

The board received a letter from Richard McAllister, president of the Central Labor Council, giving assurances that its members were Americans first and trade unionists second. The letter was in response to Chairman H. H. Smith's recent warnings against "fifth columnists" in the county.

Supervisor John A. Lynch, in response to an inquiry from Tax Collector Ambrose McSweeney, announced that the board is still studying matters of policy in disposal of delinquent tax lots, and that any persons unwilling to await the board's decision should be refunded any deposits they have made. The ruling does not affect the tax lot auction last week.

New Prices Now in Effect

New taxes imposed to make the United States safe for democracy have raised the price of smoking, drinking, driving, theater-going and powdering of milady's nose.

In Redwood City the liquor dealers were awaiting final word from the wholesalers Monday morning, but it appeared that the tax was going to prove a spring-board for a blitzkrieg jump in the price of various palate-pleasing liquids.

The war was given as the reason for a jump in the assessment for Cointreau, Cognac, imported brandy and Scotch whiskey, but it apparently had no bearing on a jump in the price of most Bourbon whiskeys. Price increases all the way from 18 to 38 cents a quart are being posted on the liquor bottles.

The 15-cent bars for the most part were adding a nickel to the price of a whiskey and soda. The 25-cent bars were reported to be absorbing the tax, but boosting the levy for Scotch and imported drinks.

Dealers absorbed a $1-per-barrell tax on beer, added a 10-cent-a-quart tax on wines.

Cigarettes went to 14 cents straight on the bargain counters which formerly offered them at two packages for 27 cents. Cartons jumped from $1.25 to $1.32. The 10-cent kinds went to 11 cents, two packages 21 cents, cartons $1.03.

Gasoline was universally a half-cent higher at 16, 18 and 20 cents a gallon for the three structures.

Patrons of the Sequoia and Redwood Theaters took in good grace the 10 per cent increase in the price of tickets by which Uncle Sam hopes to raise $112,000,000 annually. Only changes were in the 30- and 40-cent admissions, which rose to 33 and 44 cents, respectively. The 10-cent tickets are not affected, and the 50-cent level has borne its 10 per cent burden since the first World War.

'Life' Low-Cost Model Home Opens Tomorrow at Belle Haven

Opening tomorrow is the long-anticipated "Life," low-cost model home in Belle Haven City, near Palo Alto. Jointly sponsored locally by David D. Bohannon, developer of Belle Haven, and The Emporium. The living room, above, shows at a glance what can be accomplished today in both design and furnishings for families of moderate income.

Belle Haven City House Featured in Life Magazine

Prominently displayed in Life magazine this week is the model home in Belle Haven City, just south of Redwood City near Bayshore Hwy., sponsored by the Emporium and David D. Bohannon, developer of the Belle Haven properties.

This home, designed by Gardner A. Dailey, nationally noted architect, and built by Belle Haven Realty Co., is said to achieve one of the greatest strides toward the FHA goal of low-cost homes so far accomplished.

It is one of eight homes selected by Life for all-around utility, and is given a large spread showing the floor plan and picturing the living room, bookcase, foyer and kitchen-dinette.

A neat nail trick is to dip the point of one into lard or tallow before trying to drive it into hardwood.

Sunlight

Large Window Area Popular

One of the most frequently advanced arguments in favor of "modern" architecture is the increased amount of light in the larger window areas associated with this school of design. One of the avowed purposes of modern architecture is to "bring the outside in."

Large window areas and interestingly arranged windows are certainly an asset to any house. There seems to be no good reason why the advantages of an interesting view out of doors must be confined to a new style of architecture. Possibly the reason is that so many of our traditional houses have been designed on the principle that the windows are to be made as small as possible and still bring light into the house. If we view the windows as a necessary evil this is probably a proper procedure.

On the other hand, the importance of the window as a real decorative asset to the interior of the house has gained a great deal of ground in the last few years. Windows can and should be added in many old houses.

There is a great deal more danger of designing the windows too small and building too few of them than there is of providing too much glass area.

There was a period, a few years back, when glassed-in porches were very much in favor. People felt the need of at least one room, the chief characteristic of which was abundance of light and the absence of solid, restrictive walls. This feeling, which led to the construction of special rooms to "bring the outside in," was the result of too few windows in the house proper. Sun rooms are not needed in modern houses because the entire house is sunny.

There is no reason, other than habit, why a house should be designed with the usual two windows on the long wall and one in the middle of the shorter wall. There are many good reasons why the windows should be built in big blocks and why they should be built in corners.

Corners are most always difficult to use for any practical purpose because they are not suitable for most furniture, but when windows are installed there, they permit a larger glass area and actually leave more flat wall space for furniture.

Door Chimes Soothing To Anyone's Nerves

Door chimes, which can be installed by using ordinary doorbell wiring, give a rich tone to replace the often nerve-racking noise of a bell or buzzer.

The tonal beauty and good styling of modern door chimes are making them increasingly popular with home owners. Many are being made in true period designs to harmonize with the chosen architectural style.

CONCEALED NAILING

Concealed nailing is being used with the new color panels offered by the insulating board industry. The nail heads are hidden in the beveling of the boards.

Soft Light for Bedrooms

Indirect lighting was selected to illuminate this attractive bedroom to best advantage. The three-lite indirect fixture used is mounted close to the ceiling, throwing a wide spread of light into the room. The brass trim carries out the Colonial treatment.

New for the Outdoors

Smartly designed and ready for action are the outdoor furniture pieces that have glided into prominence on porches, lawns and gardens. Their specially finished upholstery and metal trims laugh defiantly at Summer sunshine. Shown is a new upholstered glider and chair ensemble.

A Suggestion For 'Country' Dining Room

A country house designed to make the most of its outdoor surroundings combines much window space with its rather rustic effect. This living room with a dining section is divided by glass screens with black sash. The floor of both sections is covered with grass matting in natural color, walls are painted pale yellow and ceiling off-white. Upholstery of the chairs and other seats is burnt orange. Curtains are of heavy pongee silk in natural color.

For some people picture straightening is a pleasure. But if you are one of those for whom crooked pictures on the wall are simply an annoyance, you can ease this problem by pasting a strip of sandpaper across the back of each picture at the bottom.

Greater Value Is Obtained Now In Homes than Possible Before

Building

Standards Are Raised

Not only are more homes being built in this community, but those people now buying houses built and financed under the FHA plan are getting greater value for their investment than ever before was possible, in the opinion of D. C. McGinness, Northern California district director of the Federal Housing Administration.

Building standards have been raised through FHA minimum construction requirements, he contends, enforced by government inspection during construction of houses built for financing under this plan.

"It has been proved that a small low-priced house can be built just as soundly as an expensive one," said the housing director. "Costs are cut by careful use of building materials to eliminate unnecessary waste, not by skimping or substituting inferior materials.

"Practically all home builders now are operating under the Federal Housing plan, because buyers are insisting upon the protective features provided by this system before investing in a home. Briefly, these involve survey of the neighborhood and approval of location, review of building plans and specifications before construction starts, and FHA inspection during construction.

"Another important advantage is that small homes built under Federal Housing inspection are eligible for as much as 90 per cent financing with 25 years in which to pay off the mortgage. The maximum mortgage insurance obtainable on houses not built under FHA inspection is 80 per cent of the appraised value, with a maximum repayment period of 20 years."

Many Homes Built Here

Scott Plumbing

Residential Work Specialty

Most of the work done by William J. Scott, proprietor of the Scott Plumbing Co. of San Carlos, and his five-man staff is residential plumbing, in conjunction with the current building activity in San Carlos.

Scott, whose business is located at 586 El Camino Real, just north of San Carlos Ave., has been operating a plumbing shop in that city for the past 10 years. He has lived in San Carlos for more than 20 years, but formerly worked in San Francisco.

The business is located in a new building just constructed by Scott himself. His office has been on El Camino Real for eight years.

Real Estate Taxes Too Heavy, HOLC Says

When taxes increase to the point where they are higher than the cost of the money invested in a property—a level already exceeded in thousands of communities—real estate is carrying an intolerable burden, a report to the Federal Home Loan Bank Board pointed out recently.

"Property taxes were high prior to 1930, but they did not represent an obstacle to the sale of real estate because real estate had the money to pay for them," said the report. "Values were increasing and rental income was at a satisfactory level.

"But the history of the depression records a recession in the cost of nearly everything contaxes. These have become an nected with real estate except unbearable burden on the ownership of real estate, a depressant on its value, a deterrent to its sale and a hazard to its economic stability."

The report was made by F. B. Bourland, former Illinois state manager of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation and recently assigned by the corporation to a study of the real estate tax problem. Coupled with its criticism of high taxes was a condemnation of over-valuation of properties and lack of uniformity in assessments and a demand for sounder appraisal methods.

John McCarthy

150 Homes Built Here

In 11 years of contracting in Redwood City and vicinity John E. McCarthy has constructed 150 homes, principally in Redwood City and San Carlos and a few in Menlo Park and Burlingame.

McCarthy, a member of the Redwood City Port Commission since its organization in 1937, has been in the building trades for 20 years. Before moving to Redwood City in 1929 he built more than 300 houses in San Francisco's popular Sunset District.

Currently McCarthy is concentrating his efforts in Redwood City and San Carlos, and has seven or eight houses under construction at all times. Prices of his houses range from $4000 to $6000.

Because of the heavy production McCarthy has assembled a large organization of business and trades people allied with the building industry.

McCarthy has resided at 50 Hudson St. since first coming here. He is a member of the Kiwanis Club.

Old nails are heard to pull from seasoned wood. To make this easy, heat a poker in a gas jet and apply to head until heat has fully percolated through nail. It can then be drawn without marring woodwork or loss of temper.

Buy Before Home Finished, Make Own Plans

Lovell & Dunlap

Architectural Ideas Given

The most satisfactory method of buying a home today is to purchase it before it is completed, in the opinion of H. J. Dunlap of the Lovell & Dunlap building firm. By doing this, one may specify individual tastes in color, fixtures, linoleums, tile, etc.

Dunlap, who specializes in this type of construction, states that people who cannot afford or do not desire to build their own architecturally-planned home may buy from the firm of Lovell & Dunlap with the knowledge that every inch of livable space has been obtained from a minimum amount of floor area by their competent architects.

Realizing that waste space is costly to the buyer, Lovell & Dunlap have included this architectural service in their Home Building sales plan and in so doing have gained many satisfied customers.

At the present time the firm is building three five- and six-room houses on Hillview Ave., south of Hopkins Ave. The builders will finish these houses to suit prospective customers along the lines outlined above. These houses, when constructed, will sell for $5400 each, FHA plan, with a monthly payment of $32.18, exclusive of taxes and insurance. Adjoining these three houses, the builders have three vacant lots upon which they will construct houses to order.

Both Dunlap and M. J. Lovell are experienced builders and their many satisfied home owners is evidence that they can do a thorough job for any prospective home owner.

Home Is Just Completed on Hopkins

Success Made Of Business

After engaging in gardening in Atherton for more than seven years, Filippo Fontana, proprietor of Fontana Fertilizer & Supply Co., 976 Woodside Rd., Redwood City, turned to his present business seven years ago and in that period has built a large concern that supplies gardening supplies to both home and commercial growers.

Fontana recently purchased a new supply depot site on Bayshore Hwy. near Rogers St., at the north entrance to the city, and will store much of his material there. He operates a large yard on Woodside Rd., having moved his supplies there from San Carlos three years ago.

Not only does the company supply many Peninsula estates with fertilizers and topsoils of various sorts, but numerous Bay Area nurseries secure their needs there. Fontana carries all sorts of natural and commercial fertilizers and topsoils and mulches such as sand, peat and loam.

A special feature of Fontana's supplies is mushroom fertilizer, widely used for lawns. It is a combination of loam and fertilizer free of weeds and particularly liked by home gardeners.

Spacious Garage Is Desirable Item

A garage that measures nine feet by 18 feet is usually ample to accommodate the average car. Doors should be seven feet high and not less than seven feet six inches wide.

F. L. Baird

Lumber Firm Is Pioneer

One of the pioneer business establishments of Redwood City, the F. L. Baird Lumber Co., has been operating at 1334 Roosevelt Ave. for 32 years, for 20 years under the name of Baird Bros. and since then under its present title.

Now associated with Floyd L. Baird in the business are his two sons, Floyd Jr. and Ernest H. Baird.

The company, which occupies a large area not easily visible from Roosevelt Ave., is equipped not only to supply all types of lumber and building materials but to do modern millwork.

Burlingame Loses Clerk

Burlingame was in mourning Monday following the death of one of its most prominent and beloved citizens, James R. Murphy, city clerk for the past 30 years and recently re-elected to that position. He died Saturday evening in a rest home after a two-week illness due to heart trouble, and following a period of failing health.

Surviving relatives include Mr. Murphy's wife, Jessie; and three children, Justine, Russell and Robert, all of Burlingame. Robert Murphy was at one time a Redwood City clothing merchant.

Before becoming city clerk at Burlingame, Mr. Murphy was Southern Pacific station agent at Millbrae.

Out of respect to Mr. Murphy's memory, flags were flown at half-mast at the courthouse in Redwood City.

Did you know that a King still rules a section of America, four-fifths as large as the whole state of Delaware? That's the size of King's Ranch in southern Texas, the largest ranch in America, perhaps in the world. You could ride horseback for days without reaching the end of this "regal" dominion.

Committee Appointed On Park Dedication

SAN CARLOS—At a recreation committee meeting attended by 70 persons Monday night, Chairman George Forbes appointed a committee of five to arrange for dedication of the park. On the committee were Dalter Moltke, general chairman; Mrs. T. F. Miller, L. L. Tobey, L. B. Waters and R. E. Goldsworthy. The committee will meet tonight at the home of Tobey on Carmelita Dr.

The dedication will be held as originally planned, July 28, it was decided at a special meeting last night, called when it was learned that Aug. 25, which had been set Monday night, conflicts with another event.

Shinglers Take Dispute With Union to Court

Harmon M. Williamson, roofing contractor, and John Buckey, shingler, both Redwood City residents, have carried to the courts their seven-month-old feud with Local 1408 of United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America.

With repeated unpaid fines hanging over them following their conviction by the union's trial board for engaging in piece work, Williamson and Buckey asked the superior court to restrain the union from blacklisting them and threatening to bar union carpenters from any jobs on which they work.

The complaint alleges that the union has damaged the plaintiffs to the extent of $600, which they seek to recover. The plaintiffs allege that the union has caused them to be discharged from jobs because of threats made by the union to their employers, that the "unjust" fines have affected their good standing, and that they are unable to gain a livelihood at their trade.

The dispute with the shinglers once resulted in an attempt to picket the hall in which the union met. Police dispersed a crowd of angry union members.

Theater To Show July 4 Parade Film

Through arrangement with Oleson & Sons Motor Sales, and the Lester Park Productions of Reeltown Studios in San Mateo, the Fox Sequoia Theater will present as an added attraction on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday the motion picture scenes of Thursday's parade.

Photographed along the line of march, and with closeups of the Queen's float, the Redwood City Municipal Band, and other outstanding entries, this newsreel promises to be of exceptional interest to the theater audiences, many of who will probably see themselves on the screen, or at least will enjoy the unusual pleasure of seeing their friends and their favorite entry in the parade from a camera-angle viewpoint.

The main feature on the Fox Sequoia screen is Edward G. Robinson's "Brother Orchid," in which he co-stars with Ann Sothern, Humphrey Bogart, Ralph Bellamy, Allen Jenkins, and Donald Crisp. The second feature is "Those Were the Days," starring William Holden, Bonita Granville, Judith Barrett and Ezra Stone.

Stahl Wins Study Course

Robert J. Stahl, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Stahl, 51 Northumberland, Redwood City, has received word that he had won the Marconi Memorial Scholarship in Radio Technology which is awarded annually by the American Institute of the City of New York.

Young Stahl was graduated this year from Bellarmine College Preparatory, San Jose, where he has been a student the past four years. While there he was a member of the Physics Academy which was an affiliate of the American Institute of Science and Engineering and was thus able to compete in this national contest with several thousand other high school students, among whom he was "high point man" in the five-hour examination in the fields of algebra, plane and solid geometry, trigonometry, scientific aptitude and physics as well as the Otis Mental Ability Test.

The scholarship, worth about $1000, consists of a two-year course in the Radio Corp. of America Institutes in New York and covers all expenses from tuition, books and necessary equipment.

Stahl was also recipient of the Bausch & Lomb Honorary Science Award given at Bellarmine to the student who has shown the greatest proficiency in the fields of chemistry, physics and mathematics during his high school career.

'Funny Feeling' Results When Old 'Friend' Is Found

"It gave me a funny feeling."

That was the way Robert Sloane, linotype operator for the Tribune, today described an experience he had last week when he discovered, like some other people have, that this is only a small world after all.

Sloane, looking at stamps in the Old Book Shop, Palo Alto, was informed by a clerk who knew him that they had a stamp with his name written across it.

"Must be another Robert Sloane," he remarked skeptically.

But when shown the stamp, a duck license stamp, he recalled when he had used it and sold it in Klamath Falls, Ore., three years ago. It was a stamp that he had affixed to his hunting license, then had written his name across its face.

It had been secured by the book shop in a collection and held under a 45-cent price. But to Sloane—it became a gift of the store.

Six-Month Terms Given in Court Here

George Brodeur, former seaman who left the San Francisco county jail to burglarize a Daly City cafe only to be captured in Salinas, was sentenced to six months in the county jail on Monday by Judge A. R. Cotton. Brodeur's motion for probation was denied.

Homer Owens, Redwood City truck driver, who pleaded guilty to charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, was denied probation and sentenced to the same term.

The first theater in California, built in Monterey in 1848, is now a public museum.

211 Delinquent Lots Bring $2265 Total

County Tax Collector Ambrose McSweeney announced that the first delinquent tax lot auction since 1932, held Friday, produced only $2265.40. In addition to the bid price, buyers must redeem taxes which have accumulated for five years.

Of 663 parcels originally listed, 224 were redeemed before the auction, he said. Only 211 were sold.

DEMATTEIS BACK ON JOB

Louis B. Dematteis, Redwood City, chief deputy district attorney, has returned to his desk after a month's leave of absence. Mr. and Mrs. Dematteis and their baby daughter spent the entire time at Lafayette near Walnut Creek.

The first skiing organization south of the Mason-Dixon line has been formed at Cumberland, Md., by the West Maryland Ski Club.

Government Costs In County Increase

Having just completed studies into per capita cost of county government and relief loads in California, the California Taxpayers Association disclosed today:

1. That San Mateo County spent $23.94 for each man, woman, and child in the county in 1938-39, compared with $16.47 in 1935-36.

2. That in San Mateo County in April, 1940, 989 persons received aid to the needy aged, 25 aid to the needy blind, 255 aid to needy children and 894 aid to county indigents.

The upward trend in per capita expenditures is in line with government costs over the state as a whole, the association reported.

About 8,540,000 men lost their lives in the first World War.
